

YOUNG NICK: 9-14; a good kid who is kind of second fiddle to BeauDrey's physical strength, but has a toughness that even a skinny kid can find growing up in a small town...FEATURED

YOUNG BEAUDREY and NICK and walk around an old dump-yard. The dump-yard has small hills where old discarded household, automotive, and farm-related items seem to grow because the dump-yard is used infrequently and grass has grown in and around the items. The boys find anything that might shatter and set it up for target practice using rocks as ammunition.

BEAUDREY

So what do you want to be when you grow up?

NICK

I don't know.

BEAUDREY

A pastor like your dad?

They both laugh.

NICK

No I think a baseball player.

As Nick says this he throws a rock that hits the bottle, but does not break it.

NICK

What do you want to do, farm?

BEAUDREY

I don't know.

NICK

How come?

BEAUDREY

I don't know.

BeauDrey throws a rock and SHATTERS the glass.
